“ My thoughts and prayers are with Eric's family. I am truly sorry for their pain at losing their husband and father in such an unexpected fashion. I hope they can remember the love they shared and not the overwhelming grief of this moment.

“ A truly genuine person, kind, honest and funny. I'm his sister-in-law, but he always treated me and my daughter like family and was there for us when we needed him. Some of the light in the world is gone now, and we will miss him greatly.

“ Eric was one of the hardest working people that I have ever had the privilege of working with. His sense of commitment to his family, his friends, and his work place was outstanding.

He was a man who shared generously and who worked tirelessly to make sure that he always gave his best.

I remember him as if it was yesterday as he talked with great love about his wife and his children. They were always at the forefront of whatever he was doing.

I remember that oftentimes he and I would be the early birds while working on a project . I would look up and he would be smiling and offering me a cup of coffee that he had made for me just to make my day a little brighter.

We shared a common love for the team of people that we were working with and I can honestly say that he and that particular group of people will always stand out in my memory as the best.

Eric is one of my fondest memories and when I think of him it will always be that of great respect for his honest heart and his commitment to integrity.

I pray blessings over the family as they navigate through this difficult time .

Eric was and always will be one of the good guys. He touched my life.

He was a gentle guy who made sure to leave a positive mark on everyone who had the privilege of knowing him.

I will always remember Eric as a kind person. He is my cousin and I am so sorry to hear of his passing. We use to be pen pals, when we were in school. It seemed like we lived so far from each other, so we would mail each other letters. We would hang out at family reunions and catch up on life. My thoughts and prayers are with his family and friends.
