“ My Daddy was an amazing, one-of-a-kind man. He lived to bless others! He loved his LORD and Savior, Jesus Christ, his church, his family, and his friends. I used to invite him to teach in my classroom at least twice a year. He taught my students so many things, especially how to "think outside the box". My students even expressed their desire to have him become their teacher! I wish that all young adults, especially those who work in the healthcare industry, could have met him. They would have seen a man who used the internet for research, even on the last day of his life! He had recently tried his first smoothie and planned to use an online menu to check out other flavors. He was able to live completely independently up to his last day on earth. He loved people of all ages and never tired of learning. He made 90 look rather young!

“ Allen was an active member of our local AARP Spring Chapter. He always had a smile. In fact, last year, he opened our monthly meetings by telling a joke about aging. He gave everyone a good laugh and he always made us smile. He was such a nice person and we miss him already. Our thoughts and prayers are with his family.
