“ Girl I'm still in shock over your death. One thing I didn't know is that you owned your own business. That's wonderful that you got to live your dream before God called you home. I think about your daughter every day because I'm sure it's not easy. Actually for anyone especially your husband, your other kids and mother. One thing about life though God doesn't make mistakes. We didn't talk all the time but we definitely tried to lift each other up. May God continue to keep each and everyone involved. Rest well baby girl.
