While at his beloved UTEP, he was a member of the College's highly regarded and award-winning cross-country tack team. He became an All American when his team became NCAA champions in 1975 and 1976. He was very proud to later be inducted into both his High School and College's Halls of Fame in recognition of his sporting achievements. Tony also obtained a degree in Communications from UTEP. Today's career path was quite diverse. After College, he worked as a photographer for The Chamber of Commerce, San Antonio. This was followed by his love of travel and adventure leading him to work as a track coach in Saudi Arabia. He subsequently went on to work for Continental Airlines and latterly, UPS. Tony was a very proud American who loved his country dearly. He felt privileged to serve his country during the Gulf War and served honorably in the Air Force during Operation Desert Shield.
