

Barbara Ann Dodson

August 20, 2016

Barbara Ann Dodson passed away peacefully on Saturday, August 20th, 2016, in Houston, Texas, following an extended illness. She leaves her loving and devoted husband of 55 years, Gerald Dodson, who attended to her daily as her health continued to decline. Others mourning her loss include a sister, Sandra Pruitt (Gary), several adoring nieces and nephews, and numerous friends and loved ones.

Barbara is preceded in death by her parents, Adron and Cleo Lobban, and her brother, Charles Lobban. She was born May 25th, 1941, in Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. She graduated from Milby High School in Houston after experiencing an exciting youth in Europe and other locations with her Army father and family. She married the love of her life on May 26th, 1961, in Abilene, Texas. Barbara loved to travel with Gerald as he pursued his hobby of fly fishing. Although she was not known to fish, they would each describe the other as their "best catch".

Barbara adored children and doted on her nieces and nephews as if they were her own. She was a gifted artist, a talented seamstress, and a creator of beautiful needlework, all of which she shared abundantly.

Barbara had a generous spirit, a quick wit, and an appreciation for beautiful treasures. She shopped year round for special trinkets to share with those she loved. Her sweet smile and kind deeds will be sorely missed by all who had the privilege of knowing and loving her.
