

Chandler Ian Bunting

January 11, 2012

Chandler (Chad) Ian Bunting born March 5, 1985 died January 11, 2012 working on an oil rig outside of Laredo, Texas as a Senior Field Supervisor. Chad was a HERO, a Marine, a warrior, kind hearted, compassionate, wise, an amazing friend to all and EVERYTHING to his family! He touched many lives in a positive way, his personality filled a room, he loved others with great passion and he was loved immensely.

Chad will be greatly missed by his family and many friends.

Chad is survived by his wife Angela Pointer Bunting, his daughter Claire Elise Bunting, his parents Ray and Stephanie Wood, brothers Chase Bunting and Jess Wood, sisters Meagan and Madison Wood, as well as maternal and paternal grandparents.

Chad loved to travel, he loved all sports and the Dallas Cowboys but above all he loved excelling at everything he did! Doing his best to be the best-for which he regularly succeeded!

A memorial fund will be established to help his daughter and family with his financial obligations please send donations in care of Chad Bunting 17802 Deep Brook Dr. Spring, Texas 77379

Tribute Wall

“ Chandler Ian Bunting

July 20, 2022 at 05:14 PM

“ Chandler (Chad) was the best person anyone could have ever met! I have 4 other wonderful children and an amazing husband but Chad was truly a perfect person sent to us on earth to show others how to love, honor and obey God's outlines for our lives. I don

Stephanie Wood - August 08, 2018 at 12:00 AM

“ I did not know Chandler but he was my cousins son. The boys have spent time at my parents when they were younger. It is such a shame that he went to be with the Lord at such a young age, but God knows best. My heart goes out to all of you.

Vicki Faulds

Vicki Faulds - August 08, 2018 at 12:00 AM