David Aaron Blackman, age 14, passed away on October 12th, 2023. David was born in Houston, Texas, on June 30th, 2009, and was a student at Knox Jr. High School.

“ Our dear David. I got the privilege to watch him grow as him and my son were the best of friends. Watching them at their big brothers football games run and play under the bleachers. It was such a joy to see. We are truly heartbroken and saddened by this. To David's family whom we love, we pray for peace during this difficult time.

Our deepest condolences 🌸

Love Tomika, Jason, Jaylan and family 🌸❤️

“ I got to know David better when I substituted in his class last year. He came through the front door each morning and I got to welcome him and either shake his hand or give him a hug.

This year I had to put out the safety cones each morning and he offered to help! Only student that has done that.

He was a delight to know.

“ To David's family,
I am trying to find words to tell you how much I love David, but words are not sufficient to truly express how I feel right now. All that I can say is, he came into my life last year as a 7th grade student in my Reading Class. From day one, David impacted my life with his gentle, caring, kind spirit. He often spoke of his struggles in school and I reminded him that all of us have struggles. I encouraged him to embrace his strengths and continue to work on his weaknesses. That's how we get better. I will always remember David and I am continually praying for the family (mom, dad, Daniel and other family members). My heart is aching with you and for you. I pray that the Peace of God will rest with you today and forever more. We are so blessed just to have known DAVID!
Much love,
Mrs. Vivian Henry.
