“ *To my best friend that became a brother to me.
A memory i had with Elmer was when one time he pulled up at my house and he had told me come on sis let's go on a ride I said ok fam hey I go out side and I come to see it was his dirt bike and I told him no I'm scared and he said come on I said ok bet but don't get mud on me please and he said I won't so we left and when I come to see he got me muddy and when he went to drop me off he was dying of laughter bc I was furious I was muddy at the end I though it was funny to me we both laughed and he told me you got to live and laugh because we only live once kells I told him yes your right bro. Thank you Brother for the memory's the laughs the I know I got it you never let anything put fear in you and let me tell you bro I'm proud of you a great father brother husband to your wife and a great son to your mother. Que viva tu memoria entre los que te quisieron muchas gracias por la persona que fuiste siempre tu recuerdo lo llevaré asta la próxima.*

“ Elmer... where do I even start. My greatest memories of you are many. You left me the biggest blessing of my life. I remember when you found out Julian was to be born you were always there. You would go out and buy the whole store. Always gave baby boy the best swings and bottles, his little polos and baby shoes. The love between you and him is something I could never compare to. The bond between daddy and him is nothing compared to mommy and J. Julian loves you so so much.... he always cried for you when I would get on his little butt about being bad. You were his hero, his bestfriend. He still asks about you but now he points at the sky and says "my dad is up there". He's such a smart boy. He's a wild one, just like you. So into the most dangerous stuff lol, always telling me "Mama go faster that car is beating you." Thank you for raising our boy into such a strong hardworking little boy. And always thank you for caring for me and my family regardless of the situations. Thank you for the headaches of making me mad for bringing Julian so dirty from running around the dirt all day and his dirty nails from playing at your job lol. I wish he would come back to me like that one last time. From the bottom of my heart you were the greatest daddy I could have been blessed with to raise Julian. We will miss you.. we made a great team...

“ Oh where to start, I met Elmer at MCJH his smile just lit up the room! He stole my heart I gave him all the love and support I could give! I left MCJH but I kept in contact with Claudia! I would see him occasionally and we would not skip a beat! I remember always telling him I love you and be good. He would hug me and say “I love you too Mrs. Perez! My heart is broken, he’s one of my kids I thought about always! I would always ask Claudia “How’s by baby?” I will love you always MY SON!

“ There's too many memories that I'm grateful for and blessed to have experienced with Elmer. I met Elmer long ag shortly after my brother met his sister. We all grew to be a very close family his sibilings and us, a bond that will never be broken. I saw him grow from a young kid to a young man and great father. We always had our laughs together among the family and he would get a kick out of the sound system in my car; he'd want to have more "bang" in the ride when he got his. The memories of us riding around jamming or adjusting the sound and the infectious smile he'd have on his face is something I'll always remember. Although I'm hurt by his loss; I hold near my heart our time spent together and will never forget the great friend he was, when help was needed for anything he would jump without hesitation to ensure he put in his part. Love always bro, I'm gonna miss you.
[My deepest condolences to the family]

“ Elmer Leija, my fiance , father to my kids and my everything. We met back in about 2010 when they moved here and i became friends with his sister. We dated in 2014 but broke it off. In 2018 we started talking again and eventually he moved in with me. We have so many fun memories . From me going all over Texas to becoming a family. Elmer was the best man I've ever met and i am so glad I lived my adult life with him . I admired how hard he would work for us. He became the man i always wanted. Seeing him being a dad was so amazing. Julian loves his dad so much always looked up to him. Elizabeth is only three months but she loved waking up to a good morning from her dad and falling asleep to a good night from him. He won't be able to meet our new baby on the way but i know he is happy from up above. Please keep watching over us and give me the strength to become the best mom you wanted me to be. I love you so much and wish this didn't happen . I miss you calling me a gordita love of my life. I miss waking up everyday next to you. I miss watching you work..i miss everything about you. Thank you for everything you did for me. You always put me and the kids before your own self. Te amo!

“ Elmer is my cousin.. we were closer when we were younger and always getting into trouble for silly things. There's memories that come to me everyday, the times we would walk home from school, times when he would wake me up for school by pouring a glass of water slowly onto my face (hilarious). There's one where my uncle (his dad) had these two little dogs that were very aggressive, Elmer and I kept bothering them until they ended up getting free and the little dogs chased us all around the backyard while my uncle and family laughed at us running from these little dogs. I remember watching movies with him, going fishing, playing kick ball, riding our bikes, walking to my moms place. He was very missed as it is because as we got older we would rarely see each other. He was already missed and knowing that we will never hang out like that again truly hurts, I thought of him as my big brother. I'll miss him forever.

“ On or around February 2017 Elmer came to my mom's house in a four wheeler and told me "hop on the back let's take a ride". I hopped on the back of the four wheeler and we took off riding from my mom's house close to Fry road and saums. We ended up all the way somewhere by 99, but didn't matter we was riding having fun. We ended up getting stuck in the water and had to get off the four wheeler to get it out the mud. The whole time we are laughing trying to get the four wheeler out so we could keep riding. Then we got to a little hill and he looked back and asked me if we should try to go up the hill, I told him let's go. When we got close to the top of the hill he started to let go of the throttle and I told him to hit the throttle or we were not going from make it to the top. He didn't hit the throttle in time and we ended up flipping over. We both kinda of felt some pain from flipping over but we were still just laughing then kept going. I won't forget that day and us laughing having fun..
