

Errick M Johnson-Cervera

August 20, 2017

The biggest, brightest smile you will ever see. There was a time when this shining star was so bright that if someone told you how it would end, you just would not have believed it possible. He walked around in a good mood, not taking note of what lesser moods were around him. He had a very kind and soft heart as was shown in his love for animals. He was emotional and sensitive. Smart and dedicated in his pursuits. He succeeded at everything he attempted.

When Errick took an interest in something, he was almost obsessive about it. One day while home sick on the couch, he picked up a book to read in order to pass the time. When his mother came home from work that day, he proceeded to show her the slight-of-hand magic tricks he had learned with cards and coins. He was surprisingly good. His magic hobby kept on to the extreme that his father had a magic coat with pockets made and gave him real doves to practice with. For his sixteenth birthday, he asked his mother for a book about body building for his gift that year. She purchased a book called Muscle Now at his request. From that time on, he cooked his own meals and even cook meals which he took to High School with him. He set his alarm to wake up at 3 in the morning to drink a protein shake in the middle of the night ? that was Errick?s dedication to his goal. He remained dedicated to that goal and continued to love exercise right up until his time was done on Earth. While in college, he ate some old meat and came down with a bad case of food poisoning. He was at the Emergency Room with his family, as he was throwing up violently, and was in a lot of pain. It was a long night at the hospital and he had a test the next day. From his hospital bed, he asked for his book and studied for his test. He wanted to keep up his good grade record in spite of the events of that evening (he Ace'd that test). This was Errick. What he chose to do, he did it with focus. Then, there was his Girlfriend, Wife, and Mother of his Son, Courtney. She was the Biggest Interest, the Biggest Hobby, the Biggest Obsession ? Courtney and Joshua were the Biggest part of his Life on Earth.

Then, there were events and intersections in his life which caused a change. Meeting just the wrong person at just the right time?. And, something happened?.

Slowly, it snuck up on him. Slowly, it gained a tighter grip. Slowly, it took over completely. How could this happen to a person like Errick? We cannot make sense of this so we must trust?

?Not a Sparrow Falls from the Sky without the Will of the Father?. There must be a purpose. A purpose we do not clearly understand and may never. We have to trust that his purpose has been fulfilled. His life must stand for something ? Errick has learned about himself, and, in very different ways, his family and the people who knew him, each have learned something different ? it must be so ? we are all here in this life for the learning and Errick has sacrificed his life and done his part for himself and for us.

Errick is survived by his Son Joshua and Joshua's Mother Courtney, his Father Max, his Mother Sandra, his Sister Jennifer and David and his Niece and Nephew Aubry and Bryce, his Sister Alexis and Tom, and his Nieces and Nephews, Brandon, Sarah, Bradley and Emily; on his Father's side, his Aunt Dora and Raymond and his cousins Renee, Eileen and Michael, his Uncle Mack and Esther and his cousins David and Cindy and their families, his Uncle Maxie and Estella, his Aunt Araceli and Ron and his Cousins Oliva and Joshua, his Aunt Maxine and John and his Cousins Rachel, Westin, Ashely and Madison. On his Mother's side, His Uncle Paul and Aunt Pat and their children and grandchildren, and his Cousin Lisa.

He was preceded by all four of his grandparents and his Aunt Marie, Uncle David and Cousin Paul Jr. - on his Mother's side.
