“ Bobbie, I can't express in words how my heart feels for you during this time. I am so sorry Bobbie for the loss of another child. Charrie and I were talking about this and thought how much loss you have suffer in life. I can't explain why you faced this amount of pain, but I know your strength. In spite of these times, you are faithful and know how He sees you through difficult times. I want you to know I send my energy of love to wrap you and rock you. But there is only One, who can heal your pain because His blood he shed for times like these was to comfort you. And to the siblings of your precious sister, I extend my sincere condolences. You all are experiencing unexplained pain, but know His healing Love last forever. Your sister is now your angel of protection. Her body is at rest, but her spirit lives on through you all. I'll be thinking about you all, and of course you are in our prayers.

*Sincerely,
Abigail, and
The Nelsons.*
