Celebrating the Life of Jeri Lynn French

January 13, 1962 – February 1, 2026

Jeri Lynn French, a woman of profound faith, unwavering resilience, and boundless love, went home to be with her Lord on February 1, 2026, in Spring, Texas. Born on January 13, 1962, in Houma, Louisiana, Jeri lived a life that was a beautiful reflection of the Gospel she so dearly loved.

A Legacy of Strength and Determination

Jeri was defined by a spirit that could not be broken. Despite facing a life-altering accident in her youth, she refused to let circumstances limit her future. With fierce determination, she pursued her education and earned her degree in Paralegal Studies—an accomplishment that stood as a proud symbol of her "can-do" attitude. She carried that same strength into her 43-year marriage to her devoted husband, Jeff French, together raising a family built on a foundation of faith.

A Heart for God and Family

Above all else, Jeri loved the Lord. Her greatest mission in life was ensuring that everyone she met had heard His word. Whether she was teaching children's Bible class or quietly reading her Scripture, her life was a living testimony. She was a "cheerful giver" of her time and her heart, always caring for those around her and finding joy in the simple things.

Jeri found beauty in the world through her hobbies and interests. She was a talented jewelry maker—a craft that mirrored her own personality: intricate, bright, and making everyone feel "special." She had a famous love for bargain hunting and never met a discount she didn't like. When she wasn't watching her favorite crime TV shows, you could find her at the beach, her "happy place," soaking up the sun and enjoying well-deserved vacations with her cherished friends.

Those Who Carry Her Memory

Jeri's legacy of love lives on through her family:

- Husband: Jeff French
- Children: Chrissy Rea (husband EJ), Samantha French, and Jeffrey French.
- Grandchildren: Caitlin Danyele Rea (husband Tracee Prescott Dunham) and Elias Rea.
- Sister: Vicki Mansfield and husband Brad Mansfield.

She is reunited in Heaven with her parents, Patricia Ann Heffington Buller and Paul Samuel Buller; her sister, Cathy Gayle Buller; and brother Alan Kubish.

Jeri Lynn French was resilient, cheerful, and determined until the very end.

While our hearts are heavy, we rejoice knowing she is resting in the arms of the God she served so faithfully, perhaps walking along a heavenly beach where the sun never sets.

“ Jeri was a very special friend to me for 43 years. She introduced me to my loving husband of 42 years and I love her for that! We raised our children together and had many special memories of spending time together with our families and friends. Jeri had a way of making all of her friends feel special. But most importantly, she had a great Love for the Lord. She never missed an opportunity to say “I am a Christian” to people that she knew and even strangers that she had just met. It was her mission to share the gospel with everyone. Even with all of her pain throughout the years, she was strong and resilient in her trust and faith in the Lord. I know that she is with Jesus now running and oh so happy in Heaven! Love you Jeri, Wendy “ Jeri was a very dear friend. We have been friends for 30 plus years. We shared a wonderful journey of raising our kids, enjoying life’s special moments and at times, sad times. Through it all she would say, “The important thing is that we have the Lord!” She shared with me the hard questions in life, especially dealing with her chronic pain. Even with those questions, she would say, “I know God loves me and I make through each day because of Him.” I praise God because now she can see (and run to!) our Lord Jesus and thank him face to face!
