“Dad I am so lucky to call you my dad. You showed me how a man is supposed to love a woman. You and moms love omg was such a beautiful story and still is to this day! The love y'all have for each other made my heart happy and to hope to find what y'all had. Thank you for being there to walk me down the aisle, for being the best papa and bringing the kids lollipops bigger than their heads when it was bedtime even though I would be like really dad I secretly loved it, for all the late night talks at whataburger, for teaching me how to love myself, for showing me how to enjoy life when it seems so crazy and so much more! You have no idea the impact you had on this world!!! I know your flying high and getting the biggest bass ever!!!! I love and miss you so much daddy!!!

“ You were the best Dad in the whole world. You nurtured my relationship with God, brought stability into my life, and were always there for me. You were the first man I could ever count on and loved. You showed me what a real man is through your hopeless romantic actions towards my mom. You loved my her so well! She deserved you and you deserved her. Thank you for being my Daddy and my mom’s soul mate 💕 I’ll love you forever, I’ll like you for always. As long as I’m living my Daddy you’ll be.

“ My heart is shattered. I'm not quite sure how I'll get through the rest of my days without my best friend. You lit up every room you walked into. You brought joy to all who met you. Your love for God, me, and your children were second to none. You experienced so much heart ache in this world, yet you still showered love on so many and served people like no one I've ever known. I thank God for the time I had with you and my only wish would be for more of you. I'll love you till the day I die, John Frye.

“ John was color in a black & white world. He brought light & laughter to our precious few Log Cabin fellowships where his pink-pom-poms for his special football team table will be forever remembered with such snickers of laughter. He loved his wife, his kids, & had a servant-heart like no other for those like my son, Brandon. Thank you, Lord, for bringing John & Tonya into my life -- they have made it better and I will miss John so very much. What I didn't get to do with he & Tonya in person in life; I so loved watching unfold on FB. The fishing, the family, the serving others as a family.... The many times he and Tonya have served mine in caring for Brandon... The costumes, the comraderie, the everything that made John the incredible person he was and will forever be remembered as being.

“ Be completely humble and gentle; be patient, bearing with one another in love. Ephesians 4:2 This bible verse best describes the kind of man that John was. He spread kindness everywhere he went, simply by being himself. He had the most loving and generous spirit. He truly lived his life by example. I will forever be grateful to John for the love that he always showed my twin boys with autism. He was one of a kind...a true gem. He will be sorely missed by every person whose life he touched. Ron and I send our love and heartfelt prayers to Tonya and the entire family.

“ *It's with a heavy heart I am typing note. John Frye was an excellent Father, Husband, Friend, and Co-worker at Texas AED & Safety and Sterlington Medical. I was honored to work with John for 4 years. All of John's customers were family to him and he treated me like a part of his family so I was truly blessed. “ John Frye my most favorite son in law the light in the world went a little dimmer with you leaving. I thought this morning as I watched your beloved wife sleeping how silent this house is even filled with people. A kinder man has never lived. As we navigate through this sorrow know your children are wrapping Tonya in love. Although your family will miss your earthly presence your legacy of love will live for generations. You mattered and we will do our best to take care of your family. Rest In Peace John Frye until we meet again on the other side

“ I met John in the professional world. He was already at the company when I came on board. I came on board in an entry level position. I was speaking to John and I told him my goals and plans at the company. Five years later when I became a manager he came to me and said you said you where going to do this now look at you. He remembered! We smiles and laughed but no one could out laugh John when he gets that good belly laugh going. I can't count how many time before John and I would start our day that we sat in the parking lot in the company van prayed together. Years later after John left the company we would met again this time family to family. My wife (Tonya ) his wife (Tonya) brought us back together and a serving capacity. I was not surprised to see him and his serving God's children and neither was he surprised on my family and I. To John's family to God be the glory. Can you imagine the stories he will be telling the Heavenly Father? I bet if you listen with your heart you can hear that belly laugh of his.

John Frye so much love given to so very many. The kindest man I had ever met. Your wife and children honor you and the legacy you leave behind will go on for generations. In a world that can be so harsh you made it easier for so many. You will forever be my most favorite son in law and berry picking partner. To God goes the glory and I will forever be thankful for love you gave my daughter and the Frye babies. A better man has never lived. Till we meet again John Frye. Rest my friend in peace

“ John was such a good friend to everyone he met. He was so kind and put his all into everything and everyone. Our hearts are just broken at the loss of this dear friend. We're grieving right along with the family. The only relief we have, is knowing that John is with Jesus. Jesus came first to him.

“ I first met John in 2006 when I started teaching adults with Intellectual Disabilities at the JOY Ministry. We both thought we would be teaching the adults, and quickly found that we were being taught so much in return. He had so much love for the Lord that he passed on to those adults. The JOY Disciples will continue to love the Lord and learn as John taught for years to come.
