

Jordan Harrison Arbour

March 23, 2015

Jordan Harrison Arbour, 22, of Spring, Texas passed away Monday, March 23, 2015 in Salt Lake City, Utah. At a very young age Jordan overcame a very critical brain injury. His journey from a childhood of severe neurological deficits to music prodigy was unique, marked by twists and turns, hard work and surprises, accomplishments and enormous support from his family. Jordan was considered a medical success, and people all around him considered him truly blessed to experience the quality of life he enjoyed as the miraculous talent he demonstrated. He was in a unique class of people. Jordan was a graduate from Klein Oak High School in 2011, and presently was a Senior at The University of Utah studying Piano Performance and Applied Mathematics. He was well loved by his professors and students alike. He enjoyed helping others with their studies. He was kind to everyone and his heart so pure. The outpouring of love and consideration for those around him was so tender. His life was far too short. We miss him so very much and we know that he is enveloped in the arms of our Heavenly Father.

Jordan is survived by his parents, D. Dean and Cerise R. Arbour; brothers, Adam George Arbour and Ryland Joseph Arbour; sister, Cerise Renee Arbour II; aunts and uncles, Lisa Arbour-Fontenot, Scott and Anne Arbour, and Nancy and Thomas Delahaye; cousins, Henry Sanchez-Leal III, Jamie Arbour, Morgan Arbour, Natalie Ross, Joline Fontenot and Nicholas Delahaye; grandfather, G. Leon Collier; and numerous close friends.
