Larry was a loving and good husband, married 40 years. He was a good father, hard worker and good provider. He never met a stranger, and loved everyone. He will be missed by all, as he was loved by all. He was called to his heavenly home earlier than his friends and family wanted. Larry had two sons that he cared deeply for, and accepted 2 other adult young men in to his home. Mark Cadwell and Charles Zibilski were friends of the family and became very close to his son's Jason and Garner in their journey through life.

Unfortunately, Larry was dealt a bad hand later in life, through a debilitating stroke, and then later by a heart attack, requiring by-pass surgery. He survived with limitations on mobility and speech, but these factors never dimmed his love of the card game called Bridge. Larry would play anytime, anywhere, with anyone. He had found the secret; if they played bridge, it did not matter what language anyone spoke. When playing, they all spoke the language of Bridge. This made up for some of his medically induced limitation, and brought great joy and satisfaction to the last few years of his life, especially all the friends he met through this game of life.

Finally, Larry was dealt a losing hand and was placed in God' hands, due to a cerebral stroke. He loved good music and all kinds and types, from classical to country western He would listen the music whenever he was playing internationally with players in other countries.

In parting words, Larry will be sorely missed as he reaps his reward of playing a good with all he came in contact with in this world, then through his eternal journey

The Addison family and staff extend our condolences to the Bluhm family in their time of loss.
