“ There are too many memories, all good, that I can't think of any one memory ok,. I loved going to her old house. The fans would be on, windows open, and no matter what temperature it was outside, inside her house it was cool and comfortable. Additionally, a warm aroma would stream in from the kitchen. One look at me she could see I was tired so she guided me to the big chair in the front room telling me to sit down. Then came the tray, the ice tea, the food she had prepared, and not long after I was asleep. It was always like this with Linda, she loved to take care of her loved ones. Linda was a very special woman, and will be missed by anyone who really knew her. I feel lucky, because she taught me so much, she will never know.
