“ Nikki pretty much saved my life in 2010 before I got physically and mentally worse at the place I was at. She gave me no choice and told me I'm coming with her and her family brought me in at one of the worst times of my life and I stayed till I was healthy again to go back home. I will never forget spending a month or so with you and your family. I'm thankful for everything you have done for me. It shaped me into who I am today. You were such a good friend and we lost you way too soon. I'm glad I got to visit you today and I put some flowers on your grave. I miss you Nikki.
