“ My dear Noemi, you are so missed. I got so lucky that I met you in Guam. You are the sweetest, funniest and most compassionate person with the most beautiful smile. Your witty personality made me laugh so much.

You had such a funny way to explain things that when Billy was alive we referred back to your witty remarks so much. (Can't put it down here but so fun) . Hope you are sitting around now and maybe saying hello to Billy at a Karaoke bar.

So many memories, you were so good to all of us. You took care of us when we needed help and never abandoned us. Such a wonderful person, you will be so missed. Its hard for me to write all of it down but just know that you are in my thoughts and will always cherish your presence and memories. My heart is aching for your family.

Rest in peace till we meet.

“ This picture was possible because in 2019 my family had to de-board the aircraft when my 1yr old baby spiked a fever right before take-off in Houston. At the drop of a hat you showed up to take us to get my Edward medicine and gave us a place to sleep in an unexpected layover. It was the first time you met my son, and maybe the first time you met Arielle (I don't remember). My heart breaks now that I know it was also the last time 😞 you were always there for me, my mom and family in good times and in bad. From my childhood, the loss of my dad and my wedding. Thank you for the baby blankets, the covid masks, snacks, your love and friendship. It's hard to accept you're gone. I love you so much Auntie Noe. You and your family will always be family to us. Rest In Peace 📍💔

“ Noemi,

You are God's chosen!

I met you 26 years ago on Guam in a class for Continental Micronesia, little did i know, this was the start of something beautiful. There are so many things I want to say, that I could share, but, I want to talk about you, You were such a generous and free spirit, always making sure I had my coffee and soap from the Philippines. Whenever you went on your trip to the Philippines, you always said Momma, what do you need. You always made us feel so special. I remember on our 50th wedding Anniversary, everyone marvelled at the personal party favors you had specially made, and for our daughters wedding, you made sure her rainbow theme had plenty of favors. That is who you were. You always emptied yourself out for others.

The many sleepless nights of laughter and layovers we would come to Houston or you Columbia. You never met a stranger. I remember several times working flight delays and cancellations with you, the sheer panic on the passengers faces wondering where they would stay or what they would do. You didn't miss a beat, it wasn't an option, they would come to yours and Vincent house. Great hospitality will always be a part of your legacy.

Even when things seemed the hardest, you would manage to smile through it. I will never question God, you belong to him. I just know heaven has a new flight attendant welcoming all the new chariots, making sure everyone has their seat belts securely fastened and are safe. You are still on your job.

Yes Ma'am it's all her personal choice and even midnight in her place we call her up just to give her updates for the party favors ... I know that rainbow colors she asked me to assist her for her good friend.. yes indeed she's very generous .

“ You never saw her without a smile. One of the sweetest people I'd ever flown with and had the privilege of knowing. I'm completely heartbroken that she's no longer here. Such a huge loss for us all, family, friends and coworkers alike, mainly because if you knew her, in any capacity, you were family. To her family, you are in my prayers. I understand why she was a flight attendant, she was an angel on earth who just wanted her wings back. She isn't gone, she's just flying higher.

“ Aunty Noemi, what lovely memories we have of you. From spending quality time with you, Uncle and the girls when you visited us in Australia, then returning in 2013 to be with Donnie & I at our wedding. You always made time and put in so much effort. Nothing was an issue. It was even great we could see each other in Hawaii

Rest in love, Aunty. We love you dearly!

“ Praying for comfort. I didn't know Noemi very well. I knew her through work. I purchased masks from her at the beginning of the pandemic. That's how we started to talk. She would make me laugh so hard whenever I would talk to her over the phone. She was very kind and thoughtful. She donated several masks to my husband's fire station. RIP Noe
