

Rachel Clary

September 27, 1980 - April 5, 2026

Heaven has gained another angel this Easter Sunday April 5, 2026. Not only because of how wonderful of a person she was, but also how wonderful of a mom she was to me. She was my biggest supporter when it came to going to all my basketball games, band concerts, tennis matches, you name it, she was there. She had the biggest heart, the kindest mind, and was a woman filled with love of her faith. No matter who came along her path, she welcomed everyone with open arms just like how God would. She taught me how to be a better person not just through actions, but through God's Will. She inspired me to dive deeper into my faith, and I then saw the miracles God provided our family. She had battled cancer for over four and a half years, and God has been with our family through every step along the way. Last year she was even in remission, proving God's good will and doing.

When she passed on Easter Sunday, I felt her spirit hug me from behind as if she was still physically in the room with us. I felt her enter and leave the room with her spirit. God is good, and don't let anyone tell you otherwise. Her death on Easter wasn't a coincidence; it was a gift. A gift to be with God the day he gets resurrected to Heaven. I love you Mom, I'm glad you are no longer suffering. You were the strongest person I've ever met. I can't wait to become an Oncologist to stop cancer and make sure no one else suffers the way you did. Rest in Peace with all our loved ones waiting to greet you.

A message from a Daughter to a Mother. Love.
