“ Dear yobo,

I can still hear your voice telling me that you love me.

There are so many wonderful memories in our 31 years together that I will never forget.

You were my gift. You were my life.

Thank you for working so hard for our future together and making me the happiest wife in the world.

You were a great husband, friend, and mentor. I will always look up to you.

Now your job here is done and please don't worry.

I promise to be strong and to live our dreams.

I will hold on to our memories until I see you again.

Please remember to keep sending me signs, I need to know that you are watching over me.

I think QT will be joining you soon and hopefully she stops biting in heaven.

Your unconditional love will always be remembered.

Thank you and I love you yobo.

From your yobo

What a wonderful tribute to a deserving husband, as I know he felt the same way about you. You were an amazing wife, and single-handily took care of him through to the end. We have so much admiration for you, and know Richard will be waiting with open arms when it is your time join him. May he RIP until you meet up again. We love and cherish the time we spent with you "AUNTIE" SukKyong and Uncle Richard over the years, as well as all of the memories that will live on in our hearts for the rest of our lives!

“ On Father’s Day we lost an amazing man, our Dad. He loved us with everything he had and left no stone unturned before he went. I will treasure my memories of our time together and draw strength in knowing he is no longer suffering. I’m heartbroken to lose Dad but feel blessed to have shared important times together talking about the past, present, and future. His legacy shines brightly upon me and inspires me to live a life filled with love, faith, integrity, joy, and to live each day to the fullest.

Dad loved God and without a doubt he is with Him in Heaven and is with his parents, 3 sisters (Dot, Ethel, and Mildred), brothers (Henry, Charlie, and Art), other loved ones including furry ones. We have a huge Wedel family and he will be missed by many. On the day Dad passed God showed me a beautiful rainbow reminding Dad’s never-ending love for us.

Love,
Linda Wedel-Elston
