“ I remember one day I went next door in need of a BIG favor. Our washer was out and of course my son had waited until the last possible moment to wash his high school baseball uniform that he needed to wear that night. Sharon not only volunteered her washer but insisted we use some new fabric pellets she had found at Costco (and for a dirty baseball uniform it probably needed it!). That was probably the best his uniform smelled his whole career!!! That's just the kind of person she was - yes and more!

i would always look for her in the window as i passed by in the morning walking the dogs. The light on in the dining room as she set there with her coffee reading her bible. She was such an inspiration and a great neighbor!
