

William Ashby

November 3, 2012

Hollie and Brook's children are requesting that, in lieu of flowers donations be sent to The Brook Ashby Memorial in care of John Wesley Methodist Church (JWMC).

The memorial will solely benefit, Project Chacocente , a missionary effort that JWUMC supports which provides land, housing, technical skills and education to disadvantages families in Managua, Nicaragua. JWUMC Youth ministry is sending a work team to Project Chacocente in June of 2013 to help build housing and other structures for these families. Donations to the Brook Ashby Memorial will be use to buy supplies to support the youth in their efforts to provide for others less fortunate than themselves and help the people of Managua live independently.

For all our family and friends closer to the east coast, another service will be held at a later date.

The Addison family and staff extend our heartfelt condolences to the Ashby family in their time of loss.

“ I met Brook many, many years ago while he was a freshman at Western New England University. He then transferred to Syracuse University sophomore year. Some guys kept in contact with each other but like everything in life people move on. A few weeks back I ran into an old mutual college friend. We all lived in the same dorm. We started reminiscing about old times at WNEC and Brook’s name was mentioned. I was so saddened to learn he had past many years ago. He was a great guy. Condolences to his family. Rest in peace Brook!
